

Shirley Houston

Educational Consultant

Get Reading Right

Shirley is an educational consultant with over 35 years of teaching experience in the area of Special Needs. She has a Masters' degree in Special Education and has taught students in K-12 at government, Catholic and Independent Schools. Shirley has been a sessional lecturer at a number of tertiary institutions, including the University of Notre Dame where she lectured in the Teacher Assistant training program. Shirley continues to do relief work in Special Needs as a teacher and as a teacher assistant. She has worked as a Literacy consultant for Get Reading Right for six years.